

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Milk is selling for 15 cents a quart in Burlington.

The long trail has been extended from the top of Killington peak to Shrewsbury pond, 14 miles away.

Two thousand student aviators, specializing on ground work, will arrive at Fort Ethan Allen this week.

Miss Alfreda Bartholomew picked a large bunch of trailing arbutus in Hydeville last week, which is very unusual.

Miss Helen Taft, a niece of ex-President W. H. Taft, has been a guest of Miss Holbrook at Naulahka in Brattleboro.

The ban was taken off Rutland yesterday except as regarding the opening of schools, which will remain closed this week.

In the interest of fuel conservation, West Rutland Congregationalists will hold services in the parish house during the winter.

Robert, son of W. H. Burns of Cambridge, is in a hospital in France suffering with shrapnel wounds which he received Aug. 22.

Mrs. H. T. Ellis observed her 91st birthday anniversary at her daughter's home in Rutland Friday. She received many callers and gifts.

Pvt. Wesley Rochelle, son of Joseph Rochelle of Jericho, died at Camp Devens Oct. 28 of pneumonia, the end coming very suddenly and unexpectedly.

Efforts will be made to save the little tree on the left foot of Hugh Yates of Middlebury, who split it open the entire length with an axe while splitting wood.

Pvt. Armand Mether, whose parents live in Winoski, died at sea recently and the body was brought back to Hoboken, N. J., and from there was shipped to Winoski. He was 25 years of age.

The number of influenza cases in Cambridge do not seem to be materially lessened, the new cases keeping the balance up. The town health officer thinks the quarantine will be lifted there for at least this week and next.

Cyrus E. Crampton of Rutland has been engaged by the University of Vermont to do dairy work through the state. He has been engaged in cow testing for several years and has been emergency assistant for the Rutland County Farm Bureau.

The postoffice at South Poultney will be discontinued after Nov. 15. The postmaster, Benjamin R. Jones, who had held that position for many years, resigned, and the department concluded not to make another appointment. The vicinity will be covered by rural carriers.

Miss Frances Dunn, a graduate nurse of the Rutland hospital, has gone to Springfield, where she is to have charge of the operating room in the hospital. Miss Louise Moore of Canada, also a graduate of the Rutland hospital, is at the head of the Springfield hospital.

Bennington will wait another week before raising the quarantine, except that rural schools reopened yesterday. Up to Nov. 2 there had been 358 cases in Bennington, the comparatively small number being due, in the opinion of physicians and nurses, to the fact that the disease was imposed before the disease became prevalent.

When Wilfred Angier and Smith Manning, Middlebury boys who took a horse from E. C. Gorham's pasture and with it had a joy ride to Bristol Flat last week, appeared in court, Angier was sentenced to the industrial school at Vergennes for the remainder of his minority, while Manning was given a reprimand and sent home.

Clarence J. Paul of Woodstock has received a telegram that his son, Sgt. O. Paul, was killed in action in France Sept. 30. Young Paul, who is the first Woodstock soldier to be killed at the front, was 22 years old and enlisted at the front, was 22 years old and enlisted at the front, was 22 years old and enlisted at the front.

News has been received by Mrs. Dora Fellows of Castleton that her son, Corp. Errol S. Fellows, died from wounds in France on Oct. 2. He was 26 years of age and entered the regular army at the age of 18, serving three years. He also served in the Mexican border. In the early summer of this year he went overseas with the 102d machine gun division.

Edward Murray of Milton, whose automobile ran into Charles A. Adams of Winoski in front of his home and inflicted injuries which caused his death, was placed under bonds of $3,000 at a session of municipal court, and his case was continued until next Saturday. Isaac Bombard, a passenger in the car, was in court Saturday and pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication, paying a fine and costs.

Edward Snow, a Burlington man, narrowly escaped instant death one day last week when a large gas stove blew up at the emergency hospital. He was a patient there and was helping about the place in such places as he could, while convalescing. It was when he attempted to turn the gas off that the stove exploded, the large door hitting him in the forehead and cutting a large gash. Snow was unconscious for several hours.

Major Paul Revere Manchester, who recently returned to the United States after nearly a year's service in France, is spending a leave with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Manchester, at his native home in Pawlet, and with his wife and little son, who are with Mrs. Manchester's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McArthur, at Granville, N. Y., during the leave. Major Manchester is to be an instructor at some training camp in this country.

Paul Valley of Quebec City, P. Q., a Civil engineer, was drowned recently in the Mississippi river at Stevens Mills, Richmond. Mr. Valley, who had been looking after the road work and the approach of the new cement bridge which is being constructed at that place spanning the Mississippi river, was drowned when he went to Stevens Mills to do some work on the dam. He slipped and went over the dam into the water. The body was recovered in about an hour. He leaves a wife, his parents and six brothers. Mr. Valley was 26 years old.

The public service commission of the state of Vermont made public on Saturday its report on the accident on the C. V. railway last June, in which nine employees and one other person were killed. Flagman Desaw, Conductor Noremeyer and Engineer Griffin, all of extra 393, are held primarily responsible for the accident, with some degree of blame also laid upon Despatcher Earle. Engineer Griffin was killed in the accident and Noremeyer was badly scalded. The commission also decided that an adequate block system is warranted on the road between Winoski and Burlington by the amount of traffic there.

President John M. Thomas of Middlebury college has completed ahead of time his course of training in the army school for chaplains at Camp Zachary Taylor, and with a number of other precocious pupils has "graduated." What his next assignment may be is not known. It is assumed Dr. Thomas will leave soon for overseas.

Baron Beaverbrook, who was mentioned in Friday papers as having been obliged to resign the position as head of Great Britain's propaganda department on account of ill health, is a brother of Miss Annie Aitken, superintendent of the Rutland hospital, and Miss Aitken received a cablegram last week announcing that his condition was more favorable. Lord Beaverbrook is a Canadian and as Sir Max Aitken was official eyewitness with the Canadian troops on the front in France throughout 1915. In December, 1916, King George conferred a peerage on him, and he assumed the title of Baron Beaverbrook. On February 10 last, he was appointed chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster and head of the newly established ministry of information. Lord Beaverbrook succeeded Sir Edward Carson in the information department.

Unless the rural section of Vermont respond as they have responded in previous campaigns this state will fall short of its quota in the united war work campaign to be waged Nov. 11-18 in behalf of the Salvation Army, the Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, the Jewish Welfare Board, the Y. W. C. A., the War Camp Community Service and the American Library association. All along this fact has been recognized by the state chairman and the state director. Hence there is a peculiar degree of satisfaction to be found in the announcement that Prof. T. B. Jenks of Burlington has selected four strong men to assist him in the rural division of the state campaign. With Prof. Jenks as chairman, the committee is constituted as follows: O. L. Martin of Plainfield, lecturer of the state grange; E. P. Cornwall of Middlebury; of the Vermont State Farm Bureau association; H. F. Hunt of Swanton, district superintendent of schools; E. L. Ingalls of Burlington, state leader of boys' and girls' club work.

PREVENT INFLUENZA

If you are "run down" or out of condition, if sluggish bowels have allowed poisonous impurities to accumulate in your system you are liable to suffer severely with the grip. Dr. True's Elixir, the famous household remedy of 67 years' reputation, may ward off the grip or make an attack light and easily thrown off. Why? Because

is a vegetable medicine that puts the system in good condition, prevents and relieves constipation, stimulates the appetite and improves the digestive powers. It can do no harm. It is purely vegetable. Ask your druggist for it, or write DR. J. F. TRUE & CO., Auburn, Me. 46c, 69c, $1.00.
